About IPSA

The Indian Political Science Association (IPSA) is the highest, the oldest and the largest academic and professional body of teachers and scholars of Political Science and Public Administration in India. This is the national association and non-profit registered organization. The aims and intellectual traditions of IPSA are- Advancement of Political Science; Scientific Study of Politics; Dissemination of Knowledge, and Rigorous Political Enquiry. The Indian Political Science Association was established in December 1938 on the advice and invitation of Bharat Ratna Pandit Madan Mohan Malviya at Varanasi. Pandit Govind Ballabh Pant, the then Premier of United Province (presently Uttar Pradesh), was invited to preside over the inauguration of IPSA. The need to start an association had been felt for a long time and it was in May 1938 that it was actually decided. A circular was issued at the end of August 1938, inviting cooperation of scholars of Political Science for this auspicious journey. The first conference was held on 22-24 December 1938 with the singing of Vande Mataram song. Pandit Madan Mohan Malviya, the Vice Chancellor, welcomed the delegates and spoke briefly of the pressing political issues facing the country. Dr. A.S. Altekar took the delegates to Samath for excursion. Dr. P.N. Banerjee of Calcutta was elected as President and Sri Gurumukh Nihal Singh of Banaras was elected as Secretary and Treasurer. Dr. Beni Prasad of Allahabad and Dr. V.S. Ram of Lucknow became Vice Presidents. In September 1939, the IPSA started publication of a quarterly journal entitled "The Indian Journal of Political Science (IPS)". In 2009, the IPSA started publication of a bi-annual journal in Hindi entitled "Bhartiya Rajniti Vijnan Shodh Patrika". Prof. Sanjeev Kumar Sharma became the first Editor. In its history of more than 83 years, IPSA has organised Annual Political Science Conferences regularly. Renowned political scientists of the country from all regions and institutions have held positions in IPSA Executive Committee and the Editorial Board. IPSA has held events throughout the country from Lahore (1940) to Trivandrum (1948), from Bombay (1941) to Calcutta (1950), from Waltair (1957) to Ahmedabad (1966). IPSA Conferences have been held more than once at: Mysore (3), Chennai (4), Jaipur (3), Calcutta (3), Meerut (3), Lucknow (2), Hyderabad (3), Jodhpur (2), Agra (2), Aligarh (2), Poona (2), Ujjain (2). "The IPSA invites you to become the member of the association and actively participate in its activities."

About the Department

Currently in accordance to the National Education policy (NEP) 2020 the department runs undergraduate from a post graduate and doctoral programmes in political science/public administration. The department endeavours to bring in light the different relevant contemporary issues in political theory and thought, as well as to give the researchers a comprehensive knowledge of the subject in various dimensions of Indian political and philosophical domain. Of late, the department has initiated well-organized discourse on the nature and profile of ancient Indian political thinking by way of creating a fruitful dialogue among specialists and stakeholders as well as by providing platform for systematic research attempting to throw light on different dimensions of polity and statecraft in ancient India. The Department has an illustrious academic staff profile since its establishment. Government of Uttar Pradesh has established Pandit Deen Dayal Upadhyaya Shodhpeeth (Research Chair) in the Department in January 2018, to initiate and strengthening the research on Pandit Deen Dayal Upadhyaya's philosophy. Further on 10 Feb 2019 Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment, Government of India established Babu Jagjeevan Ram chair in the department. The department was associated with a Bi-annual journal 'The Meerut Journal of Political Science and Public Administration' during 1997-2008. The department has started publication of the 'Indian Journal of Political Science' since 2003 and 'Bhartiya Rajniti Vigyan Shodh Patrika' since 2009 through Indian Political Science Association in the Department of Political Science and still continuing to publish these reputed journals. Besides that the department is at present the headquarters of the Indian Political Science Association (IPSA) since August 2011.

Theme of the Conference

The history of mankind has been firmly associated with the struggle of individuals against injustice, exploitation and disdain. The recognition, first at national and later at international level of human rights is one of the most remarkable manifestation of this struggle. The concept of human rights has assumed importance globally after Universal Declaration of Human Rights. The General Assembly adopted and proclaimed unanimously on 10 December 1948, in Paris the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Since then the day is celebrated as the International Human Rights Day. The Declaration is indeed a noble and inspiring Charter. It epitomizes the age old aspiration of man to assert his dignity and freedom. It is considered as the Magna Carta of the Civil, political, economic social and "cultural rights to which everyone, is equally entitled. Protection of human rights is essential for the development of the people of the country, which ultimately leads to the development of the nation as a whole. The Constitution of India guarantees basic human rights to each and every citizen of the country. The present Conference aims to bring together researcher, professionals, activists and students to discuss the concept and various issues regarding human rights in both Indian and western context.
